NEWS AND VIEWS . . .

And What Have You

By BOB CRAIG

Congressman Omar Burleson, in his newsletter this week, goes in for a little bit of tongue-in-cheek satire that seems worth passing along. It points up the fact that there are so many people in Washington running for president in 1972 that there does not seem to be anybody left up there who is interested in taking care of today's problems.

His column follows:

Needed Around Washington but a poor investment — a bumper sticker announcing "I am Joe Blow, not a candidate for President — if nominated, I would not run and, if elected, I would not serve." Lapel buttons denying Presidential ambitions among United States Senators would find few sales. The House of Representatives has its share of the ambitious too.

Mr. Blow rents a small office somewhere around Capitol Hill and puts up a banner, "Presidential Hopeful — Please Walk In."

Why are you a candidate and what causes you to think you can be elected?" a newspaper reporter inquires.

"Because I've been mentioned as a Presidential prospect. Just this morning my wife said, 'Joe, I think you've got just as much chance of being President as any of those other clunkheads.' " Once mentioned as a prospect you then and there become a Hopeful.

"One mention doesn't make much of a prospect," the interviewing reporter said.

"Of course not," agreed Joe, "but go ask the local experts around the Country. My name will surely crop up."

"What about the polls?" the reporter wanted to know.

"Well, as you know, Presidential Hopefuls take their own polls," Joe replied. "I just took one this morning. I will have the overwhelming support of my wife, a taxi driver, whose name I didn't get, and two young waitresses where I had coffee."

"It seems you're pretty well known here around Washington but who knows you out around the Country," the reporter asked.

"As a presidential hopeful I expect to make a flying trip to 37 states on next Thursday."

"You mean to visit 37 States in one day?"

"Yes. I'll fly over each major city, crop press releases and some film strips. The newspaper, radio and television stations will do the usual and say, 'Presidential Hopeful, Joe Blow, Visits Here.' This will result in great savings and avoid a lot of stupid questions," Joe says.

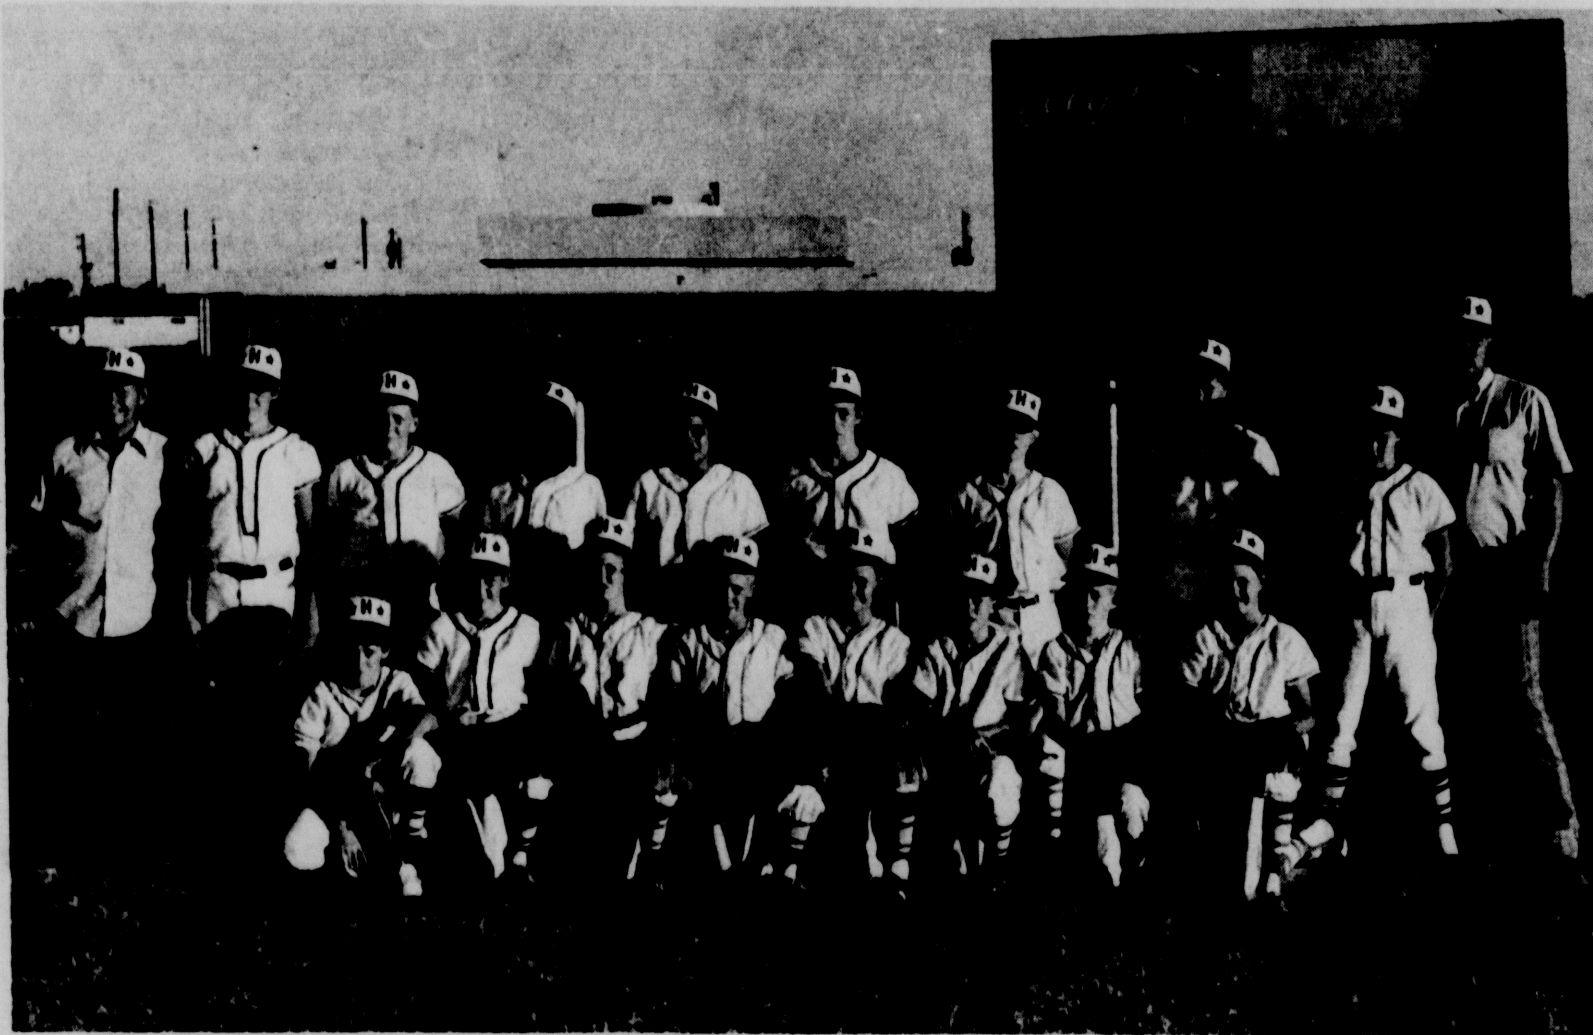

Then the hopeful revealed he had another thing going for him too.

"If you've noticed, the importance of each Hopeful is being measured by the number of former aides of Kennedy, Humphrey and other past and present Hopefuls, who have gone over to the new Hopeful," Mr. Blow slyly inferred. "Up to now Senator McGovern has scored heavily but I'm ready to pull a coup."

"You mean you've hired former Kennedy people?" "Right," said the candidate smugly. "I have employed 2 gardeners, 13 drivers, 2 upstairs maids and 3 down stairs, 4 cooks and a touch football pumper-upper."

The reporter grabbed the only telephone, got his editor — "Hold everything. Looks as if we've got a real comer here — a real Hopeful."

Well they come and go but more seem to come. One Hopeful dropped out of the running last week. He seemed to be the only one who really knew he was in until he announced as a dropout. He was from Iowa but a new one from Oklahoma filled right in. More will likely be known of his getting in when he gets out.

FROM THE FILES . . .

FORTY FIVE YEARS AGO (July 30, 1926)

It will be of interest to most Hamlin community folks to know that Louie Hardy, Grady Bowdry, both Hamlin young men, have just recently formed a new motor company in Stamford, known as the Hardy Motor Company. The third member of the company is Dick Rowland who has been with the Kinard Motor Company for a long time. These men have the Buick agency for this county and are just beginning their "New Buick" advertising.

It was stated two or three weeks ago, the Republican party this year was to hold its first primary election in this state. In Hamlin they had only the state ticket and one voting box.

The Republican primary was held in the F. L. Walker office and L. P. Cozzen was the presiding officer. H. A. Stacy and C. B. Rowland were clerks and J. A. Jacobs was judge. Every detail in compliance with the Texas Primary election law was carried out. Their vote was light, just six ballots were used. In Stamford they polled just eighteen votes.

Since Sunday morning, Rev. J. H. Littleton, pastor of the Baptist Church has been conducting a protracted meeting at the Union Tabernacle. All departments of the services have been directed by home people. Each service has been well attended, considering the fact that no special drive has been made to draw large crowds. The preaching is characteristic for straight gospel messages and earnestness. The pastor has been in fine trim and every sermon reveals his devotion and enthusiasm.

The meetings will continue at the Tabernacle till the close of the Saturday night service, then there will be two more at the church building on Sunday.

TWENTY YEARS AGO (July 27, 1951)

Six men will be inducted into the armed forces from Jones County during August, according to Mae Dunwoody draft board clerk at Anson.

Mrs. Dunwoody says that the results of the college qualifications test given to college students are being mailed to the registrants as soon as they are received at the local board.

There were no inductions from Jones County during the month of July.

To be eligible the examination applicants must actually reside within the delivery of the Hamlin post office or be bona fide patrons thereof.

Application forms and additional information may be secured from Postmaster Perry Sparks from the Regional Director.

A water rationing program for Stamford residents went into effect last Thursday. The city has been suing more water each day than is pumped from its treatment plant at Lueders, and its supply in overhead storage tanks has been falling steadily, city leaders said.

Walter Chalcraft returned to Hamlin over the weekend and interest in matters pertaining to the high school band took a jump.

Chalcraft announced that Hamlin's summer band school would start August 6 and will be completed August 30. Candidates are asked to appear at the new band hall in the former Dixon Grocery Building on the morning of August 6 for registration.

The band leaders is devoting the next week to assisting in the conducting of the McMurry band school in which he is working with the basses and also functions as a monitor over the musicians assembled.

Members of Circle No. 1 of the Woman's Society of Christian Service of the First Methodist Church met Monday afternoon at 4:00 o'clock in the church for their regular business and social meeting. Mrs. E. J. Hawkins gave an interesting program.

TEN YEARS AGO (July 27, 1971)

Cub Dad and Lad camp is being repeated at Camp Tonkawa this summer for all Cub Scouts and their fathers. On August 5-6, and August 12, 13, any cub Scout and his dad may have a wonderful weekend together at the Boy Scout Camp of the Chisholm Trail Council together under starry skies.

The Hamlin Little League All-star team fell to the Snyder Nationals Monday night in the finals of the Area III Baseball Tournament, 16-2. Due to costly errors by the Hamlin youths, Snyder capitalized and took command by scoring eight runs in the first inning. Although Snyder connected for only eight hits, the six miscues committed by Hamlin proved the difference.

The Little League season has been completed and Hamlin is proud of all the finer performances and sportsmanship displayed by the boys. The gratitude of the officials goes out to everyone who attended the games, gave needy contributions, or took part in any phase of the activities.

"YOU TOOK MY PICTURE... AND I WASN'T READY!"

How concerned we are with the image we present to others! And it is right that we should be. How mightily we influence others. It is so important that the self we present is one that will influence others for good.

With guidance from God we will be ready to present ourselves to the world in such a manner as to sway others toward God and all that is worthwhile and good.

"That ye might walk worthy of the Lord unto all pleasing, being fruitful in every good work, and increasing in the knowledge of God," come to His Church.

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

Social Security Cards For Children Under 6

About 300,000 children a year now get social security cards before they're 6 years old, according to social security officials here.

"About 32,000 infants a year are issued social security numbers before they're 1 year old," a spokesman said. The numbers are often used on bank accounts and stock certificates in a child's name, he said.

"Most people don't start working and making payroll or self-employment contributions to social security until they're somewhat older than 6," the spokesman said. "Some start earlier, though. Recently, a little girl in Mississippi got a job—and her social security card—when she was 1 year old. She was hired to play the role of an infant in a movie and earned social security credit."

Advice to Girls

I would say to every young girl, rich or poor, gifted or dull: "Learn to make a home, and learn this in the days in which learning is easy. Cultivate a habit of vigilance and forethought. With a reasonable amount of intelligence, a woman should be able to carry on the management of a household, and should yet have time for art and literature in some sort."

— Julia Ward Howe (1899)

Neinda Philosopher Finds Many New Things for Environmentalists to Deplore

Editor's note: The Neinda Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Route One discovers new horizons for environmentalists this week.

Dear editor:

For a while I was worried about some of the environmentalists, that is, the newcomers who got in late on the act, not the genuine ones who are on firm ground when they attack the pollution of rivers, lakes, oceans, parks, roadsides and the air we breathe.

Local Couple Attends Arizona Funeral for Nephew

Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Winegeart returned home Monday after attending the funeral service Saturday of her nephew, James E. (Bimbo) Trimble, 17, who was killed in a pickup-pedestrian accident late last Wednesday evening.

A promising football standout at Flagstaff High School, young Trimble was killed when he stepped into the pat of an oncoming pickup on Interstate 17 some two miles from his home at Flagstaff, Ariz. Driver of the car was a close friend of the victim. Reports indicated that Trimble was crossing the busy highway. The driver and a companion, another close friend, did not see Trimble on the highway until just before the impact. Officials estimated the speed of the vehicle at 35 to 40 miles per hour in the 45 mile zone.

Trimble would have been a senior this fall at Flagstaff High School. He visited the Winegearts most every summer and spent most of the summer here last year. He is survived by his father, Bill Trimble Sr., one older brother, Billy Joe, 19, and three younger brothers, Robbie, 14, Harold, 11, and Frankie Shane, 2. His mother, Marge, was killed less than a year ago in a one-car accident on Interstate 17, south of Flagstaff.

Only piece of art signed by Michelangelo is his Pieta. About one-third of the cultivated land in India is in rice.

But it's pretty hard to establish a permanent organization with a president and all against swordfish and corn flakes, so I was pleased when I read in a newspaper last night that a scientist has come up with a brand new one. It's automobile tires. Not the tires themselves, it's what goes with the rubber when it wears out.

According to him, 340,000 tons of rubber a year disappear into the air or somewhere as tires go from new to threadbare on the streets and highways of America, not counting, I presume, that left by teenagers who dig out because I've seen their skid-marks still on the highway.

Now 340,000 tons of minute particles of rubber dumped into the atmosphere every year is something I hadn't thought about, but it sure opens up new horizons for environmentalists running out of something to point their finger at, some of whom were reduced to denouncing paper cups.

For example, take pigeon feathers. You ever figure up how many pounds of pigeon feathers float down through the air and clutter up the ground every year?

Or squirrel fur, that's bound to be a hazard to the lungs of fellow squirrels and other forest creatures as the tiny hairs float through the air, not to mention campers out in the woods hunting for a clear spot to dump their trash.

Or shoe leather, or the skin from barefooted people.

I could go on, but you can see the possibilities are unlimited for environmentalists hunting something to point their finger at.

In fact, they don't even have to look beyond their fingers. You ever figured up how many tons of nail pairings human beings clip and clutter up the earth with every year? That's just the fingers. Throw in the toenails and you've really got a crisis on your hands. Congress has got to wake up and do something about rubber tires and toenails.

The more you think about all these frightful conditions the more you conclude life is not possible on this planet, yet people tell me the population is increasing all the time.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

THE HAMLIN HERALD

PENDING NEW LAW—

Draft-age Men Must Still Register, Take Physicals

Selective Service System Executive Secretary, Mrs. Mae L. Dunwoody, who manages Anson's local board, says the current Congressional impasse over extending the induction authority has created great uncertainty among area draftage men.

Mrs. Dunwoody continues, "Selective Service Director Curtis Tarr has recently stressed the importance of explaining to our draft-age men the high probability that draft calls will resume in the near future and that the current impasse is the Congress is not likely to affect any registrant's chance of being drafted."

"Our local board has been specifically instructed to continue to register and classify men, and to order for preinduction physical examinations those young men who may be needed to fill draft calls in the coming months," Mrs. Dunwody said.

Men with lottery numbers through 125 were eligible for induction in June in order to fill draft calls. Since then, the Defense Department has asked Selective Service to draft 16,000 men in July-August. This request is being held by Selective Service headquarters pending final Congressional action on the draft bill, which is expected within several weeks.

"Those young men with relatively low lottery numbers who are eligible for induction this year, particularly those with numbers below 175 — the current processing ceiling — have a very good chance of being processed for induction after draft calls are restored," Mrs. Dunwoody said.

"Many young men," said Mrs. Dunwoody, "seem to think that the Selective Service Act has permanently expired and that they probably will never be drafted. Some of them also think that the entire system has stopped. They are wrong since it is only the induction authority that has expired. They, therefore, may be unintentionally breaking the law by failing to register at age 18, by not keeping their local boards informed of their current address, or by failing to report, if ordered, for their preinduction physical examination."

Mrs. Dunwoody also stressed that local boards are continuing to consider CO, hardship, and student deferments and to take other classification actions. "Young men who had planned to submit requests for deferments or exemptions are encouraged to do so," Mrs. Dunwoody said. "The expiration of the induction authority does not affect our responsibility to classify young men," Mrs. Dunwoody added.

Mrs. Dunwoody may be contacted at 1220 S. Commercial, of the Office of local board No. 77, Anson.

Legislature this year appropriated $11.9 million for new vendor drug program.

Welfare authorities believe the new system will provide improved prescribed medicine coverage and delay a cut in overall welfare payments for food, clothing and shelter.

However, some complained of welfare check cuts, since drug allotments no longer will go to recipients, and a few who get only payments for drugs will be taken off welfare rolls. Latter will be interviewed by Welfare Department to determine if they should get cash aid.

SCHOOL DISTRICTS WARNED — At least 50 Texas school districts have been warned not to accept transfer students where the act would be interpreted as designed to impede desegregation or continue discrimination.

Dr. J. W. Edgar said districts were reminded of the April 20 Tyler federal court order forbidding transfers between districts where effect would be to interfere with integration or promote discriminatory treatment.

County Agent Points Out Need For Rabies Shots

County Agent Kirby Clayton cautioned all small animal owners this week that all pets under their jurisdiction should be vaccinated for rabies. Failure to do so could result in tragedy for some youngster says Clayton.

In making the announcement, Clayton cited a case in Anson last week where two small children were bitten or scratched by a cat. Dr. Hagler, local veterinarian, sent the cat's head to Austin where it was diagnosed as having had rabies.

The agent noted that tragedy might have resulted had the cat been ignored. Accordingly, all persons having been bitten by a small animal should consult your local veterinarian or county agent for proper procedures in handling the case.

Clayton suggests that if you have not already done so, to make an appointment with your veterinarian and have your animal vaccinated.

What a beautiful Monday morning. We got .76 in. of rain last week but could use more. Greedy aren't we?

Well, they are off to the moon again. I hope for their safe return.

THE FAMILY LAWYER

Value of Personal Belongings

Your coat disappears from a checkroom. Your curtains are damaged at the laundry. Your couch is stained by water leaking down from an upstairs apartment. Assuming you are entitled to compensation, how much money can you collect? What is the value, in dollars and cents, of your personal belongings?

A public service feature of the American Bar Association and the State Bar of Texas. Written by Will Bernard.

AUSTIN — Investigations of stock-loan scandals which have rocked the state for nearly seven months moved forward on three fronts during the past week.

Travis County District Attorney Robert O. Smith announced plans to present to the grand jury here evidence compiled by Texas Atty. Gen. Crawford C. Martin's staff.

Martin said evidence includes material pertaining to federal Securities and Exchange Commission allegations that large bank loans were extended to high state officials by the Sharpstown State Bank in 1969. Money went to stock purchases by officials at the time Sharpstown bank head Frank Sharp was trying to get deposit insurance legislation passed.

Sharp was invited to testify within the next three weeks before a House General Investigating Committee.

Committee asked Sharp to talk about bills in which he was interested in 1969 "and other matters that may be pertinent concerning Sharpstown State Bank, the National Bankers Life Insurance Company and any relationship with public officials."

Meanwhile, State Insurance Commissioner Clay Cotten turned over to district attorneys in Houston, Dallas and Austin results of his investigation of NBL.

Cotten said he feels insurance, embezzlement and conspiracy laws may have been the harm she had suffered. Nevertheless, the law does not ordinarily grant compensation for values that are strictly sentimental.

For example, suppose those drapes happened to be especially precious to the woman because they had been made by her late mother. Obviously, this would heighten their value in her own eyes.

Yet, because this factor is so purely personal, it would not be counted against the laundry as an element of damages. The law would consider it unfair to place upon the laundry a special responsibility about which, when it accepted the drapes for cleaning, it knew nothing at all.

A public service feature of the American Bar Association and the State Bar of Texas. Written by Will Bernard.

© 1971 American Bar Association

A simple test was suggested by the proprietor of a restaurant, after a woman's coat vanished from his checkroom.

"We will pay her what it would cost to buy a secondhand coat of similar quality," he said in a court hearing. "After all, that is what she lost—a secondhand coat."

But the court awarded her substantially more than the secondhand value. The judge said that, in her eyes, it was her own personal garment—not just a "secondhand coat."

Generally speaking, in fixing damages for personal belongings, the law will take the viewpoint of the original owner rather than of the person responsible for the loss. Accordingly, it relies mainly on the original cost of the item (minus depreciation).

What if the lost or damaged merchandise was part of a matching set? May you collect for the entire set? The law usually says yes, again taking the viewpoint of the owner.

Thus, when five out of a set of eight matching drapes were ruined at the laundry, a court held the laundry liable for all eight. The judge said that since the customer would have to buy a whole new set, this was the truest measure of overstepped but preferred to leave it up to prosecuting attorneys to decide if violations occurred. He offered names of five one-time NBL officers and directors prominently involved in his report.

Federal court at Houston set hearing this week to determine if a June 14 immunity order protecting Sharp from further prosecution or summons should be modified. Martin and Smith want to force him to testify before the Travis County grand jury hearing.

LIVESTOCK DISEASES SPREAD — As sleeping-sickness-like Venezuelan Equine Encephalomyelitis continued to strike horses and some humans, threat of a new livestock malady loomed.

Outbreak of African hog fever in Cuba alarmed swine owners. Latter is almost invariably fatal, and there is no known vaccine. Ailment does not affect people, as does VEE (which is usually mild in humans).

More than 1,100 Texas horses are believed to have been killed by VEE and 1,500 others stricken. More than 6.6 million acres have been sprayed to kill disease-carrying mosquitoes.

AG OPINIONS — Texans under 21 may not serve on juries in Texas despite recently lowered voting age to 18, Attorney General Martin held.

In other recent opinions, Martin concluded:

Texas Industrial Commission can open an extension office in Mexico City and pay salaries of employees there.

Governor is without authority to negotiate open-end contracts for computer supplies for state agencies.

Law passed last May 26 sets maximum compensation for assistant county school superintendents in all counties.

SB 194 of last legislature repeals other acts on commercial drivers' license exemptions.

MEDICINE AID SYSTEM CHANGED — On September 1 State Department of Public Welfare will begin making payments directly to pharmacists for drugs prescribed to Texas welfare recipients.

Under current system, allowance for drugs is included in monthly assistance checks.

Welcome to the United States of Affiliated, A Country Within a Country!

We're more than 2,000 stores strong, serving nearly 20,000,000 people in seven states.

The new combined buying power of our four independent distribution centers now enables our independent member-grocers to offer you tremendous food values at unheard-of prices every day of the year.

This is the culmination of more than thirty years operation as food distribution centers serving the needs of independent grocers to enable them to continue to offer competitive prices on more than 10,000 separate items.

More than thirty years ago an independent grocer was just that, an independent businessman. He had only himself to depend on. He bought his groceries from whatever supplier called on him with the best deal. He sold his groceries at whatever markup was necessary to make a profit and to stay in business.

Then, larger stores, members of a national chain began serving his neighborhood. And they beat his prices. Because they were buying as one customer and dividing the savings.

Something had to be done if the independent businessman stayed in business. He, and others like him, started their own distribution center. The idea spread.

Soon, all over the country, independent grocers suddenly found that through their distribution centers they could buy groceries at the same price as the chains. Sometimes even for less.

Through the years, the distribution centers grew, and grew and grew.

But so did the chains. Price advantages see-sawed back and forth.

Now, four of the biggest independent distribution centers in the southwest have themselves joined together. This time, they won't be beat. Together, they have the buying power of 2,000 stores. In seven states.

These distribution centers are in Dallas, Amarillo, Little Rock and Tulsa.

They are still autonomous. But they buy and advertise as one. The savings are passed on to the consumer.

A distribution center now does a lot more than just buy and distribute groceries for its member-owners.

It handles much of their individual book-keeping and accounting. The latest computer methods are used. Key punch terminals are used by some stores to order their merchandise. In the store, a clerk punches the code number of the item, displayed on the shelf under the item, together with the quantity desired. When he has tabulated the amount of goods needed for the store, the terminal is connected by telephone to the distribution center computer.

In three minutes the entire order is transmitted and recorded. Simultaneously an invoice is prepared. Routing and delivery instructions are printed for the delivery of the order.

A copy is printed for the personnel in the distribution center to pull the items for delivery. All this within minutes of the time the terminal is connected to the store telephone.

What used to take days through the mail, now takes minutes through the latest methods of electronics.

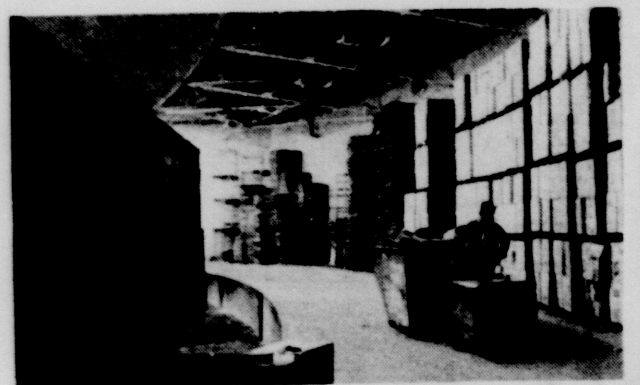

In one distribution center, Dallas, an entire potato bagging plant has been set up. Potatoes purchased by the carload, in bulk, fresh from the rich, black potatolands of Idaho, are delivered directly to the distribution center. They are unloaded in bulk and placed in hoppers holding over one thousand pounds of the important staple.

One thousand pounds at a time, they are carefully transferred by conveyor to a washing machine, through an inspection table, then to an automatic bagger. They are then weighed and bagged and placed in other bins ready for shipment to the grocers. All this within hours of their arrival from the fields.

The savings effected by this operation are directly passed on to the consumer.

Bananas are ripened in huge vaults on the premises. Eggs are received in one door and shipped out another, usually within the same day.

Goods in the distribution center are turned-over, replaced . . . received and distributed . . . on the average of three times a week!

Shortly after the four distribution centers began discussions pursuant to their joining their buying power, it was found that their combined trade territories roughly followed the outline of the United States. The seven states served by Little Rock, Amarillo, Dallas and Tulsa fit into an area which almost looked like a map of our great country. Thus the idea of a country within a country, the United States of Affiliated was born.

It was a happy thought. Store owners are delighted to be a part of the new plan. They are displaying the insignia of their new country. With store banners, window decals, and signs they proudly say, "We are glad to be a part of the United States of Affiliated."

The customer is also invited to share in the bountiful harvest. She will receive savings certificates good for many outstanding bargains in foods and grocery items.

Lower prices every day will be the continuing result of the joining together of these four giant food distribution centers under the banner of Affiliated Food Stores, the United States of Affiliated.

Imagine 108 Box-Car Loads of Del Monte Products For Affiliated Super-Sale

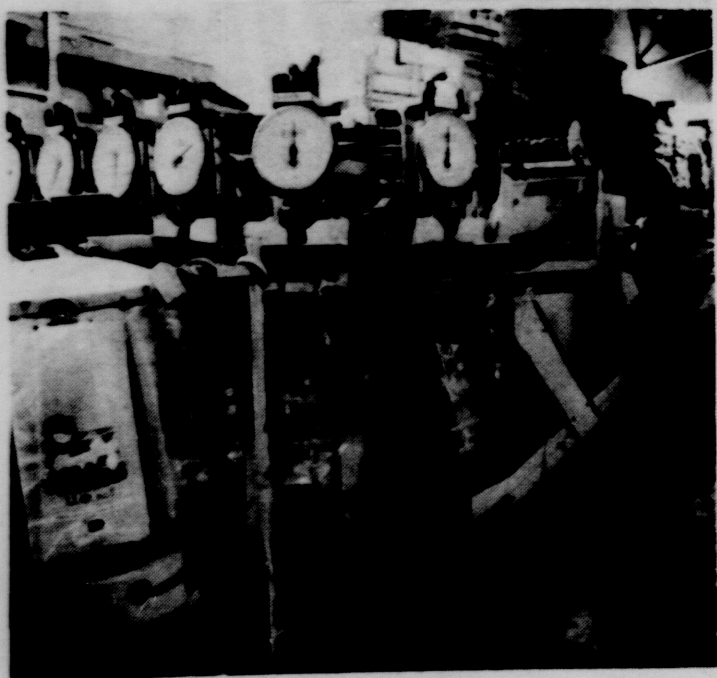

Summer Favorite
FOR THE WHOLE FAMILY

If the four distribution centers comprising the United States of Affiliated were assembled under one roof, the combined statistics would be staggering. The more than 10,000 different items now being distributed would be stored under 60 acres of roof. More than 200 trucks and over 300 trailers would be used to distribute foods over millions of miles of highway each year. 25 million pounds of bread and bread products, baked and distributed each year. 5 million gallons of 17 different flavors of ice cream, mellorine and sherbet would be manufactured annually.

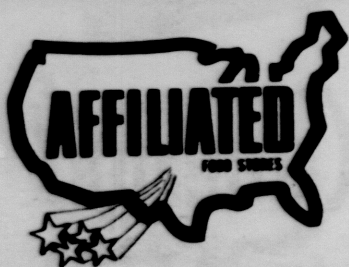

Add to these statistics the fact that all of the goods in the warehouse are replaced an average of 22½ times per year, you have some idea of the tremendous service performed by the United States of Affiliated. Whole departments in the warehouse are dedicated merely to sorting and crediting coupons and redemption certificates. The savings earned by the housewife through the use of these coupons at the store is passed on thru the warehouse to the manufacturer and results in increased savings.

Speaking of savings, one of the reasons Affiliated members can consistently offer foods at lower retail prices is that they are served by cooperative warehouses. These warehouses are non-profit organizations operated for the convenience and benefit of their members. Lower operating costs and reduced taxes result in real savings to the housewife.

The next time you go to your friendly, neighborhood Affiliated Food Store, realize that it represents over 60 acres of warehouse values being passed on to you.

Tulsa Affiliated Now Part of "The Country Within A Country"

For 31 years, Affiliated Foods, Inc. has served member stores over a large part of Oklahoma. From a modest beginning in 1940, the Tulsa warehouse has grown to a huge food distribution center whose members have sold over $54 million worth of groceries in 1970. The general office of Affiliated Food Stores is at 4433 W. 49th Street in Tulsa, Okla. Members of the Tulsa warehouse are proud to offer many quality items under the Shurfine label, the brand of quality. According to Mike Robinowitz, President and General Manager of Affiliated Management Corp., "Shurfine and other control labels best serve our customers by enabling us to secure the highest quality merchandise at the lowest possible distribution costs."

"We offer these control label items in addition to other nationally distributed products. There are two advantages to the consumer in that a control label product enables an Affiliated Food Store to offer a product either of higher quality at no increase in cost, or of equal quality at a lower cost.

Affiliated Food Stores in Oklahoma have been able to build a high level of loyal consumer acceptance thru years of uncompromising high standards of quality, packaging, and promotion so that they are able to offer Quality-At-A-Price.

Now that Tulsa has joined with Amarillo, Dallas, and Little Rock Affiliated Food Stores, advantages of buying control label products by the consumer has been enhanced.

Little Rock Joins U.S. of A.

For years, a major source of foodstuffs in Arkansas, Louisiana, and Tennessee, has been the Associated Wholesale Grocers of Arkansas in Little Rock. The state capital is not only Arkansas' largest city but a trade manufacturing and transportation hub. 350 stores are served by the Associated Wholesale Grocers warehouse. But recently the name has been changed to Affiliated Foods of Arkansas.

With the name change came the announcement that the Little Rock warehouse was becoming an integral part of the United States of Affiliated. The warehouse serves an area as far away as Memphis, Tennessee, in addition to a substantial part of Arkansas and some stores in Louisiana.

C. E. TOLAND, President of Affiliated of Little Rock, says, "We have operated as Associated Wholesale Grocers of Arkansas for many years. But since we were the only one of the four warehouses which was not known as Affiliated, we felt it was necessary that we change our name. Now that we are a member of the United States of Affiliated, we know that we are going to be able to offer even better food values than we had before."

The new flag of the United States of Affiliated will soon be flying over the stores of famous food merchants such as Model Markets, All Star Markets, the Mad Butcher stores, A/G stores, Weona stores, By-Rite stores, and Valley Food markets.

None of the store names will be changed but they will now be known and identified as members of United States of Affiliated with all the additional benefits of greater buying power which they can pass on to their customers.

U.S. of A. welcomes Amarillo

The rich panhandle of Texas has long been served by the Amarillo Foods Warehouse. In addition to Texas, areas of New Mexico including Carlsbad and regions of Oklahoma including Guyman and Altas have been served by the Affiliated food warehouse. Soon newly decorated trucks will be delivering groceries to their members in this large area.

Last year, members sold more than $158 million worth of food distributed by Affiliated foods of Amarillo. Shurfine bread is baked daily in a fully automated bread plant on the warehouse premises and distributed within hours to the member stores.

Charles O. McBeath, General Manager, says, "We are proud to be a part of the new United States of Affiliated. We know that co-operative buying makes our members competitive with the national chains. Now that Tulsa, Dallas, and Little Rock Affiliated Warehouses have joined with Amarillo to increase our total buying power many times, you can bet that we will be consistently lower on virtually everything we sell."

Free panty hose

Ladies will be pleased to know that they may receive free panty hose during the week of July 26 when they shop at their friendly, neighborhood Affiliated Food Store.

An exceptional purchase was made by Affiliated on panty hose, and rather than price the hose so far below the regular price, Affiliated decided to celebrate the official announcement of their country within a country promotion, by giving away the panty hose entirely free of charge.

Watch the shopping sections of your newspaper for other outstanding food buys at Affiliated Food Stores. You will know an Affiliated Food Store by its distinctive "Country Within a Country" sign in the shape of the United States of America, and the red letters Affiliated Food Stores on a white field.

Another sure way to know that you are entering an Affiliated Food Store is by the smiles on the faces of the happy customers as well as the friendly, courteous attention of the sales people.

U.S. of A. welcomes Dallas Affiliated Foods.

From its base of operations on Ambassador Row in the heart of one of Dallas' largest industrial districts, Affiliated Food Stores of Dallas distributed more than $171 million of groceries to more than 700 member stores in 1970.

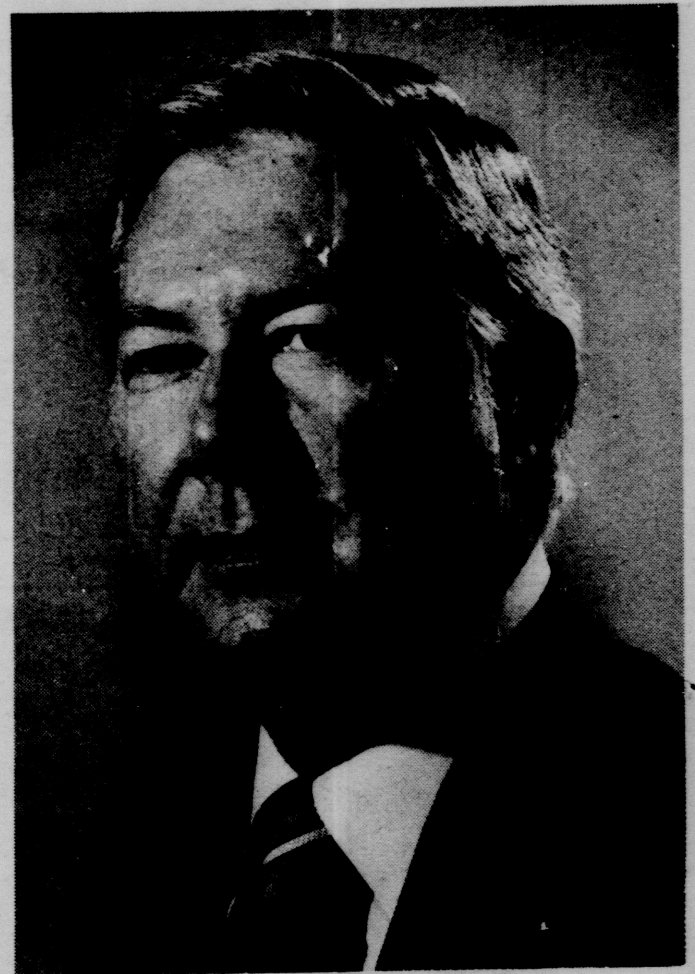

Familiar names now being served by Affiliated Foods include Thriftee and A/G stores. To these honored names will be added the sign of Affiliated Food Stores, the insignia of the United States of Affiliated.

Either Dallas or Ft. Worth alone would constitute a major, vital metropolitan market. Together, they constitute a major, vital metropolitan market, Texas-style. And it's served by Affiliated Foods of Dallas. But this is just a part of the large area in North Central, East and Central Texas served from the Dallas warehouse. In addition to the many nationally advertised brands of foods, private label items are distributed by Affiliated. An ice cream plant on the premises produces, stores and distributes AF ice cream to its member stores.

Nat Gibbs, General Manager, says, "Because the buying power of each individual warehouse has now been multiplied, we are going to be able to offer increased savings to our customers. We have recently added a potato packaging capability which enables us to buy potatoes in bulk at a real savings, process and package them ourselves and pass the savings along to our member stores and their customers.

"We are continually looking for more and better methods of packaging and distribution in order to save the housewife precious shopping dollars. Soon we will be applying our new techniques in purchasing and distribution to produce other than potatoes. Bulk buying and packaging for the ultimate consumer right in the warehouse will result in substantial savings."

National Brand Foods at Unheard of Low Prices

Special vaults ranging from Arctic subzero temperatures for frozen food to nearby tropical climates for ripening bananas are all located inside the giant warehouse.

To move the many thousands of items from the warehouse to consumer hands, Affiliated utilizes a vast fleet of specially designed trucks and trailers bearing the red, white and blue of the United States of Affiliated.

Exceptional values will be advertised on television beginning the week of July 26.

A favorite of the dairy case, canned refrigerated biscuits, will be at their lowest price ever at Affiliated Food Stores.

The main stay of the old fashioned Sunday dinner, frying-size chicken, will be available for a new record low price per pound. Check other pages in this tabloid for the price of the items you desire. And pay particular attention to the TV screen for the advertised TV specials which will represent the lowest prices ever in Affiliated food history.

The more than 2,000 food stores which now will be under the name of Affiliated Food Stores have always been known for their high-quality-at-low-price food items. Now that the four distribution centers serving the more than 2,000 food stores have combined their buying power, almost unbelievably low prices are being passed on to their customers.

Each member merchant of Affiliated can pick and choose from vast resources and stock his shelves with the many Shurfine and other national brand products specially suited for his neighborhood.

In fact, your independent Affiliated grocer offers you the widest possible selection of items, actually exceeding by more than 2,500 the number carried by most major chains.

To keep pace with the growth and shifts in population, stores are added to the Affiliated family each month. Further, existing stores are constantly undergoing modernization and expansion to enhance store appearance and provide greater shopping comfort for the consumer.

A special Affiliated engineering department confers with store members, designing and developing store plans. All member stores are consumer oriented. Ease of shopping and convenience for the consumer are always the prime considerations when undertaking store renovation.

Nearly $1 billion in products move through the four efficient Affiliated distribution centers each year. Every phase of the complex warehouse operation is executed with computerized precision. Advanced materials handling methods, increased use of electronic data processing, faster order processing and more efficient store delivery guarantees the shelf freshness the consumer desires.

Affiliated Food Stores and the more than 2,000 food store members rank as one of the Southwest's number one employers, offering varied careers in merchandising, operations, sales promotion, warehousing, transportation, finance and personnel, all at excellent earnings.

The Affiliated organization has developed training programs with an eye toward attracting young people into food distribution.

Affiliated has its own ice cream plant manufacturing more than a million gallons, in variety of flavors, annually.

Imagine yourself doing the family shopping in a giant distribution center, covering almost sixty acres with over 7,000 different items from which to choose. In effect, this is exactly what the housewife-shopper is doing each time she visits her neighborhood independent Affiliated Food Store.

A Country Within a Country!

Now the COMBINED BUYING POWER of FOUR HUGE DISTRIBUTION CENTERS mean tremendous savings for more than 19 million customers living in seven states who shop at the 2000 AFFILIATED FOOD STORES owned and operated by independent grocers.

Independent grocers vital to local economy

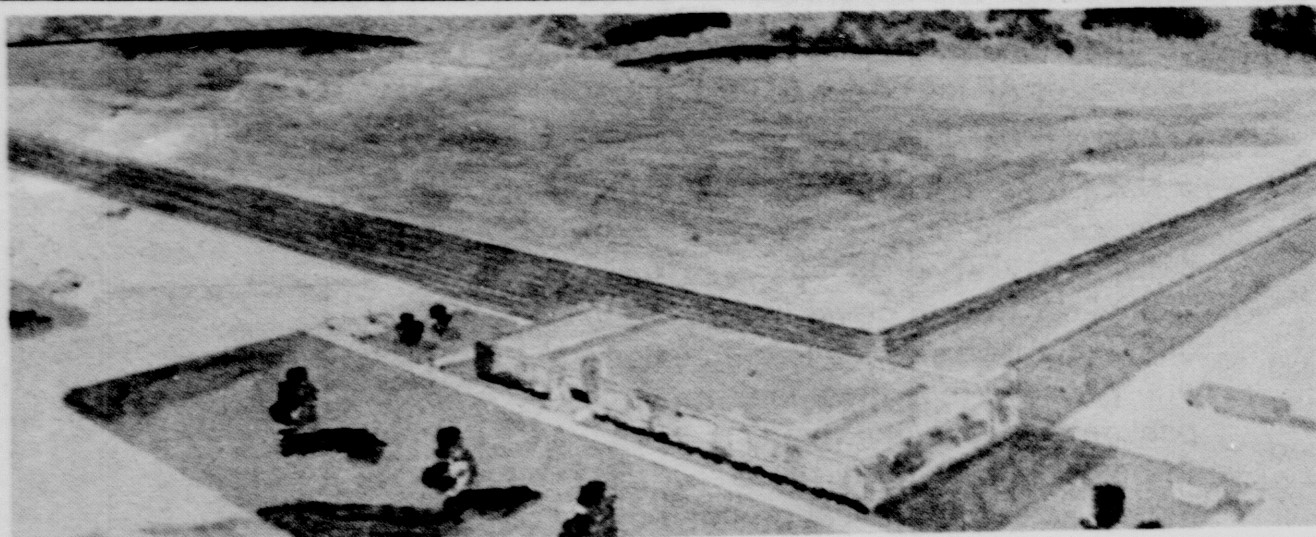

The independent grocer is a respected member of his community. He is a member of the Rotary, Lions or Kiwanis Club. He works with the youth of his community. His grocery store provides employment for many of your friends and neighbors.

Many a young executive has started his career as a stocking clerk or a bagger after school hours.

Your independent Affiliated grocer is an integral part of the community. His only reason for staying in business is to serve you and thousands like you who patronize his store.

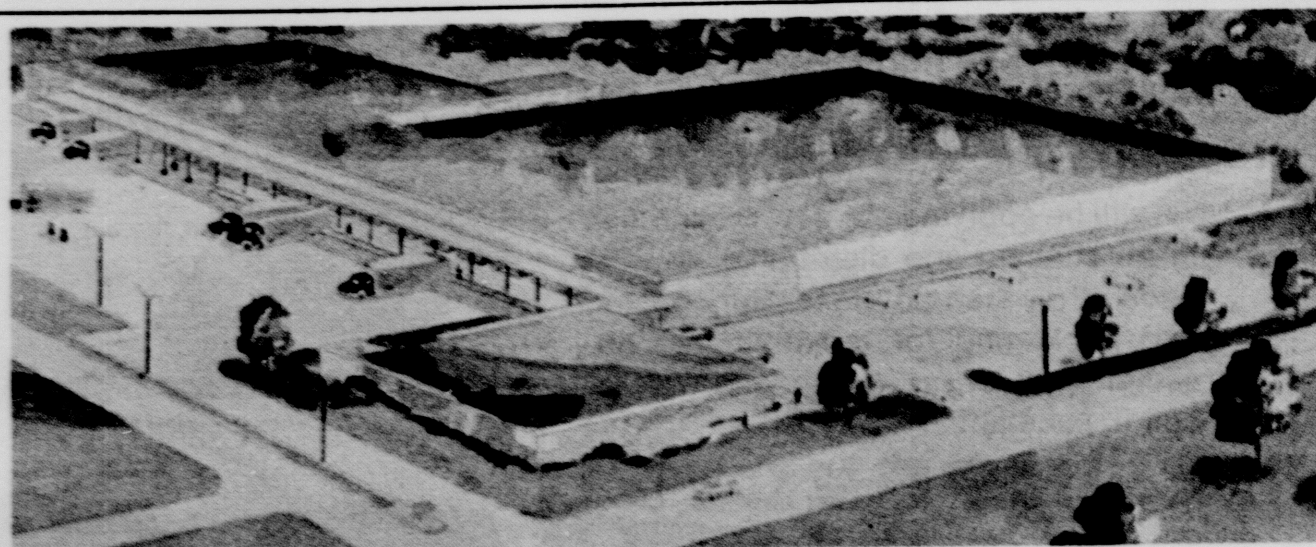

You benefit in many ways when you continue to buy from him. Perhaps the most important reason is that you continue to save on your food bill. But you also are contributing to the building of a stronger local economy and a better community.

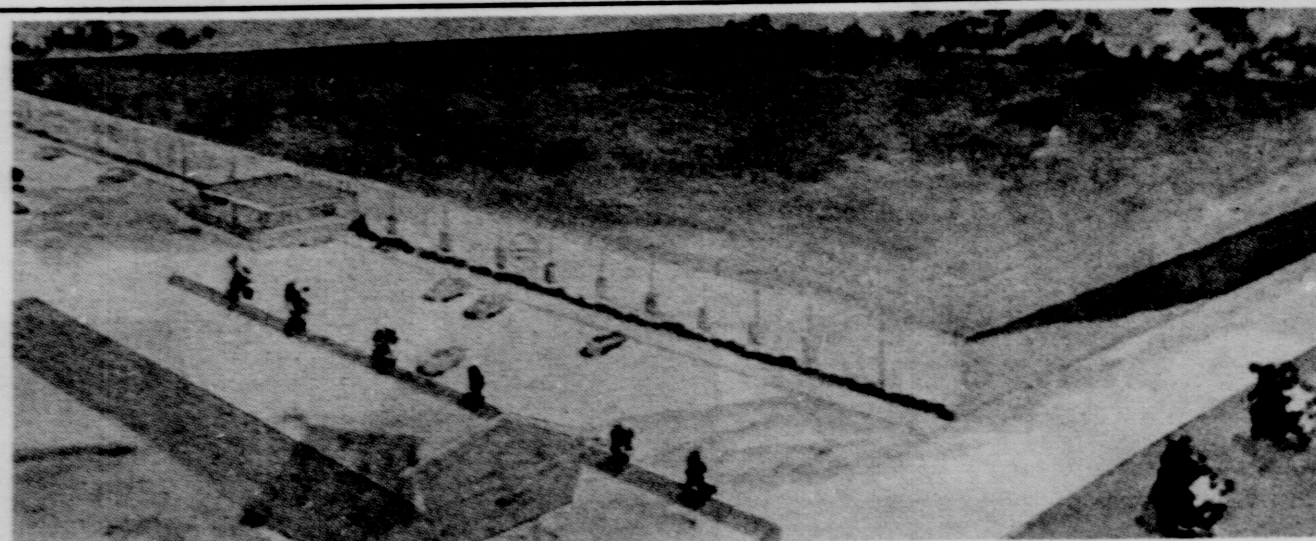

Dallas, Texas

A large portion of North, Central and South Texas is served by the Affiliated Food Stores distribution center located in the heart of the huge Brook Hollow Industrial District on Ambassador Row in Dallas. More than 700 member stores receive their grocery products from the Dallas distribution center.

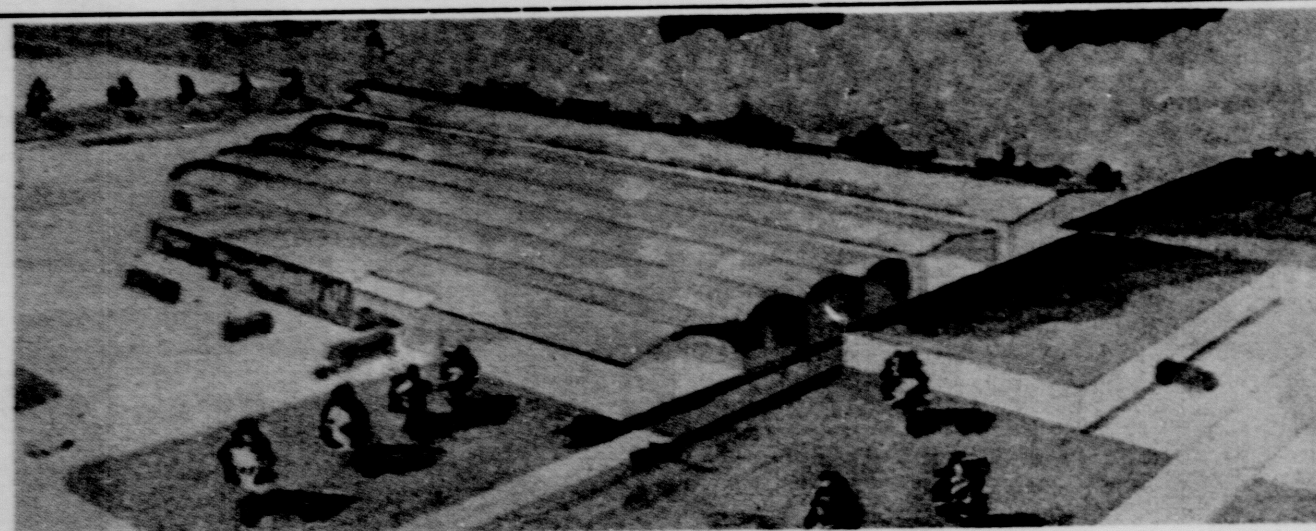

Tulsa, Oklahoma

For 31 years, Affiliated Food Stores of Tulsa has supplied fine food products to its member stores located across the state of Oklahoma. One of the nation's first food distribution centers serving independent grocers, Affiliated Food Stores of Tulsa has expanded many times until it now occupies a large tract at 4433 W. 49th St.

Little Rock, Arkansas

Affiliated Food Stores of Little Rock distributes grocery items to member stores not only in Arkansas, but also in Louisiana and Tennessee. The distribution center is located in a new, enlarged facility in Arkansas' capitol city.

Amarillo, Texas

A vast territory of West Texas, New Mexico and western Oklahoma is served by the food distribution center of Affiliated Food Stores in Amarillo. Hundreds of member food stores are provided with their grocery products each day from this huge plant located in the heart of the Texas Panhandle.

NEWS AND VIEWS . . .

And What Have You

By BOB CRAIG

Congressman Omar Burleson, in his newsletter this week, goes in for a little bit of tongue-in-cheek satire that seems worth passing along. It points up the fact that there are so many people in Washington running for president in 1972 that there does not seem to be anybody left up there who is interested in taking care of today's problems.

His column follows:

Needed Around Washington but a poor investment — a bumper sticker announcing "I am Joe Blow, not a candidate for President — if nominated, I would not run and, if elected, I would not serve." Lapel buttons denying Presidential ambitions among United States Senators would find few sales. The House of Representatives has its share of the ambitious too.

Mr. Blow rents a small office somewhere around Capitol Hill and puts up a banner, "Presidential Hopeful — Please Walk In."

Why are you a candidate and what causes you to think you can be elected?" a newspaper reporter inquires.

"Because I've been mentioned as a Presidential prospect. Just this morning my wife said, 'Joe, I think you've got just as much chance of being President as any of those other clunkheads.' " Once mentioned as a prospect you then and there become a Hopeful.

"One mention doesn't make much of a prospect," the interviewing reporter said.

"Of course not," agreed Joe, "but go ask the local experts around the Country. My name will surely crop up."

"What about the polls?" the reporter wanted to know.

"Well, as you know, Presidential Hopefuls take their own polls," Joe replied. "I just took one this morning. I will have the overwhelming support of my wife, a taxi driver, whose name I didn't get, and two young waitresses where I had coffee."

"It seems you're pretty well known here around Washington but who knows you out around the Country," the reporter asked.

"As a presidential hopeful I expect to make a flying trip to 37 states on next Thursday."

"You mean to visit 37 States in one day?"

"Yes. I'll fly over each major city, crop press releases and some film strips. The newspaper, radio and television stations will do the usual and say, 'Presidential Hopeful, Joe Blow, Visits Here.' " This will result in great savings and avoid a lot of stupid questions," Joe says.

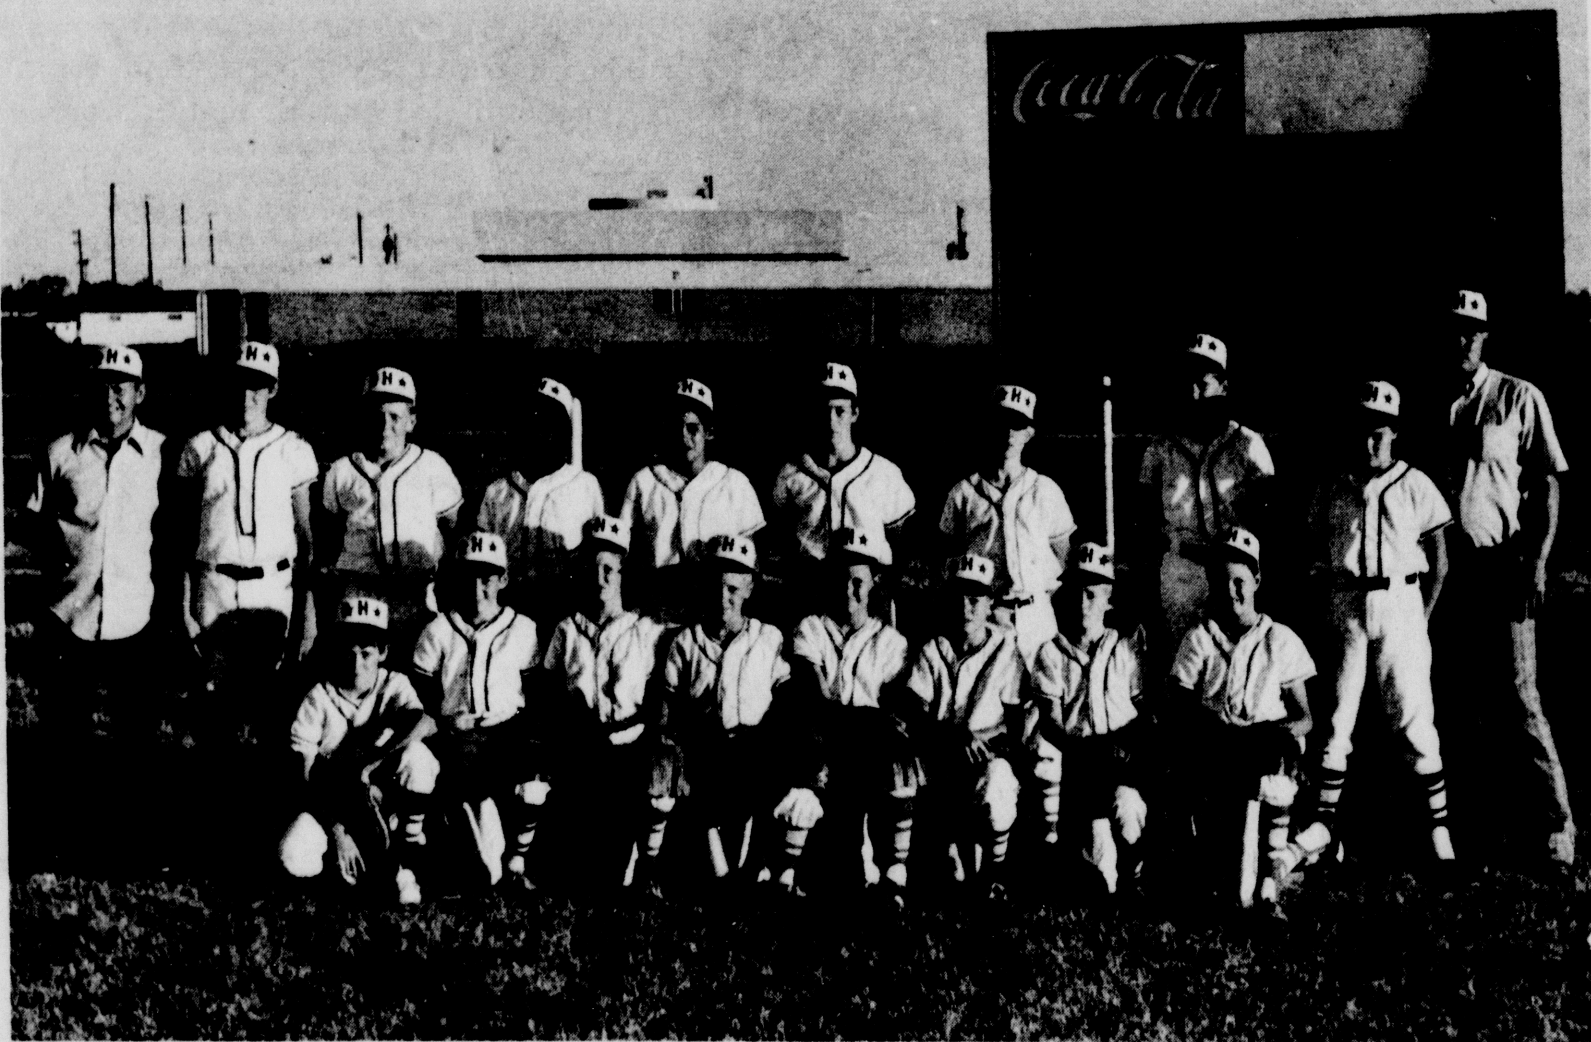

Then the hopeful revealed he had another thing going for him too.

"If you've noticed, the importance of each Hopeful is being measured by the number of former aides of Kennedy, Humphrey and other past and present Hopefuls, who have gone over to the new Hopeful," Mr. Blow slyly inferred. "Up to now Senator McGovern has scored heavily but I'm ready to pull a coup."

"You mean you've hired former Kennedy people?" "Right," said the candidate smugly. "I have employed 2 gardeners, 13 drivers, 2 upstairs maids and 3 down stairs, 4 cooks and a touch football pumper-upper."

The reporter grabbed the only telephone, got his editor — "Hold everything. Looks as if we've got a real comer here — a real Hopeful."

Well they come and go but more seem to come. One Hopeful dropped out of the running last week. He seemed to be the only one who really knew he was in until he announced as a dropout. He was from Iowa but a new one from Oklahoma filled right in. More will likely be known of his getting in when he gets out.

FROM THE FILES . . .

FORTY FIVE YEARS AGO
(July 30, 1926)

It will be of interest to most Hamlin community folks to know that Louie Hardy, Grady Bowdry, both Hamlin young men, have just recently formed a new motor company in Stamford, known as the Hardy Motor Company. The third member of the company is Dick Rowland who has been with the Kinard Motor Company for a long time. These men have the Buick agency for this county and are just beginning their "New Buick" advertising.

It was stated two or three weeks ago, the Republican party this year was to hold its first primary election in this state. In Hamlin they had only the state ticket and one voting box.

The Republican primary was held in the F. L. Walker office and L. P. Cozen was the presiding officer. H. A. Stacy and C. B. Rowland were clerks and J. A. Jacobs was judge. Every detail in compliance with the Texas Primary election law was carried out. Their vote was light, just six ballots were used. In Stamford they polled just eighteen votes.

Since Sunday morning, Rev. J. H. Littleton, pastor of the Baptist Church has been conducting a protracted meeting at the Union Tabernacle. All departments of the services have been directed by home people. Each service has been well attended, considering the fact that no special drive has been made to draw large crowds. The preaching is characteristic for straight gospel messages and earnestness. The pastor has been in fine trim and every sermon reveals his devotion and enthusiasm.

The meetings will continue at the Tabernacle till the close of the Saturday night service, then there will be two more at the church building on Sunday.

TWENTY YEARS AGO
(July 27, 1951)

Six men will be inducted into the armed forces from Jones County during August, according to Mae Dunwoody draft board clerk at Anson.

Mrs. Dunwoody says that the results of the college qualifications test given to college students are being mailed to the registrants as soon as they are received at the local board.

There were no inductions from Jones County during the month of July.

As a result of vacancies in the Hamlin Post office, the Civil Service Commission announces an examination for filing vacancies in the position of substitute clerk carrier at the salary of $1.31½ per hour. To be eligible the examination applicants must actually reside within the delivery of the Hamlin post office or be bona fide patrons thereof.

Application forms and additional information may be secured from Postmaster Perry Sparks from the Regional Director.

A water rationing program for Stamford residents went into effect last Thursday. The city has been suing more water each day than is pumped from its treatment plant at Lueders, and its supply in overhead storage tanks has been falling steadily, city leaders said.

Walter Chalcraft returned to Hamlin over the weekend and interest in matters pertaining to the high school band took a jump.

Chalcraft announced that Hamlin's summer band school would start August 6 and will be completed August 30. Candidates are asked to appear at the new band hall in the former Dixon Grocery Building on the morning of August 6 for registration.

The band leaders is devoting the next week to assisting in the conducting of the McMurry band school in which he is working with the basses and also functions as a monitor over the musicians assembled.

Members of Circle No. 1 of the Woman's Society of Christian Service of the First Methodist Church met Monday afternoon at 4:00 o'clock in the church for their regular business and social meeting. Mrs. E. J. Hawkins gave an interesting program.

TEN YEARS AGO
(July 27, 1971)

Cub Dad and Lad camp is being repeated at Camp Tonkawa this summer for all Cub Scouts and their fathers. On August 5-6, and August 12, 13, any cub Scout and his dad may have a wonderful weekend together at the Boy Scout Camp of the Chisholm Trail Council together under starry skies.

This is really a chance for a dad to get away from everything and spend a weekend with his own son out where his son wants to go. So dad round up some bedding and the rest of your camping gear and make off for Camp Tonkawa for the weekend with your son.

The Pied Piper Booster Club will launch its 1961 membership drive within the next few days., Edgar Duncan announced today.

Duncan urged that everyone join the club this year. Dues will be $2.50 and both men and women are welcome to the meetings.

Dues to the club are used to buy trophies, film, special equipment and other aids.

Ten young people of the Foursquare Church are attending the summer camp held each year at Saxon Springs, Arkansas, for an area covering Oklahoma, Texas, New Mexico and Arkansas.

Door prizes will be given to all members of the Cooperative and drawings for other nice prizes will be held throughout the evening.

The Hamlin Little League All-star team fell to the Snyder Nationals Monday night in the finals of the Area III Baseball Tournament, 16-2. Due to costly errors by the Hamlin youths, Snyder capitalized and took command by scoring eight runs in the first inning. Although Snyder connected for only eight hits, the six miscues committed by Hamlin proved the difference.

The Little League season has been completed and Hamlin is proud of all the finer performances and sportsmanship displayed by the boys. The gratitude of the officials goes out to everyone who attended the games, gave needy contributions, or took part in any phase of the activities.

Social Security Cards
For Children Under 6

About 300,000 children a year now get social security cards before they're 6 years old, according to social security officials here.

"About 32,000 infants a year are issued social security numbers before they're 1 year old," a spokesman said. The numbers are often used on bank accounts and stock certificates in a child's name, he said.

"Most people don't start working and making payroll or self-employment contributions to social security until they're somewhat older than 6," the spokesman said. "Some start earlier, though. Recently, a little girl in Mississippi got a job—and her social security card—when she was 1 year old. She was hired to play the role of an infant in a movie and earned social security credit."

"YOU TOOK MY PICTURE...
AND I WASN'T READY!"

How concerned we are with the image we present to others! And it is right that we should be. How mightily we influence others. It is so important that the self we present is one that will influence others for good.

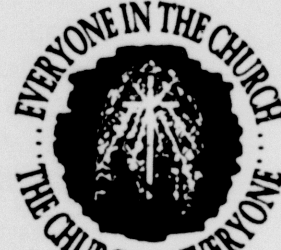

With guidance from God we will be ready to present ourselves to the world in such a manner as to sway others toward God and all that is worthwhile and good.

"That ye might walk worthy of the Lord unto all pleasing, being fruitful in every good work, and increasing in the knowledge of God," come to His Church.

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

Advice to Girls

I would say to every young girl, rich or poor, gifted or dull: "Learn to make a home, and learn this in the days in which learning is easy. Cultivate a habit of vigilance and forethought. With a reasonable amount of intelligence, a woman should be able to carry on the management of a household, and should yet have time for art and literature in some sort."

Neinda Philosopher Finds Many New Things for Environmentalists to Deplore

Editor's note: The Neinda Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Route One discovers new horizons for environmentalists this week.

Dear editor:

For a while I was worried about some of the environmentalists, that is, the newcomers who got in late on the act, not the genuine ones who are on firm ground when they attack the pollution of rivers, lakes, oceans, parks, roadsides and the air we breathe.

Local Couple Attends Arizona Funeral for Nephew

Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Winegeart returned home Monday after attending the funeral service Saturday of her nephew, James E. (Bimbo) Trimble, 17, who was killed in a pickup-pedestrian accident late last Wednesday evening.

A promising football standout at Flagstaff High School, young Trimble was killed when he stepped into the path of an on-coming pickup on Interstate 17 some two miles from his home at Flagstaff, Ariz. Driver of the car was a close friend of the victim. Reports indicated that Trimble was crossing the busy highway. The driver and a companion, another close friend, did not see Trimble on the highway until just before the impact. Officials estimated the speed of the vehicle at 35 to 40 miles per hour in the 45 mile zone.

Trimble would have been a senior this fall at Flagstaff High School. He visited the Winegearts most every summer and spent most of the summer here last year.

He is survived by his father, Bill Trimble Sr., one older brother, Billy Joe, 19, and three younger brothers, Robbie, 14, Harold, 11, and Frankie Shane, 2. His mother, Marge, was killed less than a year ago in a one-car accident on Interstate 17, south of Flagstaff.

But it's pretty hard to establish a permanent organization with a president and all against swordfish and corn flakes, so I was pleased when I read in a newspaper last night that a scientist has come up with a brand new one. It's automobile tires. Not the tires themselves, it's what goes with the rubber when it wears out.

According to him, 340,000 tons of rubber a year disappear into the air or somewhere as tires go from new to threadbare on the streets and highways of America, not counting, I presume, that left by teenagers who dig out because I've seen their skid-marks still on the highway.

Now 340,000 tons of minute particles of rubber dumped into the atmosphere every year is something I hadn't thought about, but it sure opens up new horizons for environmentalists running out of something to point their finger at, some of whom were reduced to denouncing paper cups.

For example, take pigeon feathers. You ever figure up how many pounds of pigeon feathers float down through the air and clutter up the ground every year?

Or squirrel fur, that's bound to be a hazard to the lungs of fellow squirrels and other forest creatures as the tiny hairs float through the air, not to mention campers out in the woods something to point their finger at.

Or shoe leather, or the skin from barefooted people.

I could go on, but you can see the possibilities are unlimited for environmentalists hunting something to point their finger at.

In fact, they don't even have to look beyond their fingers. You ever figured up how many tons of nail pairings human beings clip and clutter up the earth with every year? That's just the fingers. Throw in the toenails and you've really got a crisis on your hands. Congress has got to wake up and do something about rubber tires and toenails.

The more you think about all these frightful conditions the more you conclude life is not possible on this planet, yet people tell me the population is increasing all the time.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

PENDING NEW LAW—

Draft-age Men Must Still Register, Take Physicals

Selective Service System Executive Secretary, Mrs. Mae L. Dunwoody, who manages Anson's local board, says the current Congressional impasse over extending the induction authority has created great uncertainty among area draftage men.

Mrs. Dunwoody continues, "Selective Service Director Curtis Tarr has recently stressed the importance of explaining to our draft-age men the high probability that draft calls will resume in the near future and that the current impasse is the Congress is not likely to affect any registrant's chance of being drafted."

"Our local board has been specifically instructed to continue to register and classify men, and to order for preinduction physical examinations those young men who may be needed to fill draft calls in the coming months," Mrs. Dunwoody said.

wody said.

Men with lottery numbers through 125 were eligible for induction in June in order to fill draft calls. Since then, the Defense Department has asked Selective Service to draft 16,000 men in July-August. This request is being held by Selective Service headquarters pending final Congressional action on the draft bill, which is expected within several weeks.

"Those young men with relatively low lottery numbers who are eligible for induction this year, particularly those with numbers below 175 — the current processing ceiling — have a very good chance of being processed for induction after draft calls are restored," Mrs. Dunwoody said.

"Many young men," said Mrs. Dunwoody, "seem to think that the Selective Service Act has permanently expired and that they probably will never be drafted. Some of them also think that the entire system has stopped. They are wrong since it is only the induction authority that has expired. They, therefore, may be unintentionally breaking the law by failing to register at age 18, by not keeping their local boards informed of their current address, or by failing to report, if ordered, for their preinduction physical examination."

Mrs. Dunwoody also stressed that local boards are continuing to consider CO, hardship, and student deferments and to take other classification actions. "Young men who had planned to submit requests for deferments or exemptions are encouraged to do so," Mrs. Dunwoody said. "The expiration of the induction authority does not affect our responsibility to classify young men," Mrs. Dunwoody added.

Mrs. Dunwoody may be contacted at 1220 S. Commercial, of the Office of local board No. 77, Anson.

Legislature this year appropriated $11.9 million for new vendor drug program.

Welfare authorities believe the new system will provide improved prescribed medicine coverage and delay a cut in overall welfare payments for food, clothing and shelter.

However, some complained of welfare check cuts, since drug allotments no longer will go to recipients, and a few who get only payments for drugs will be taken off welfare rolls. Latter will be interviewed by Welfare Department to determine if they should get cash aid.

SCHOOL DISTRICTS WARNED — At least 50 Texas school districts have been warned not to accept transfer students where the act would be interpreted as designed to impede desegregation or continue discrimination.

Dr. J. W. Edgar said districts were reminded of the April 20 Tyler federal court order forbidding transfers between districts where effect would be to interfere with integration or promote discriminatory treatment.

Value of Personal Belongings

Your coat disappears from a checkroom. Your curtains are damaged at the laundry. Your couch is stained by water leaking down from an upstairs apartment. Assuming you are entitled to compensation, how much money can you collect? What is the value, in dollars and cents, of your personal belongings?

Texas Press Association

AUSTIN — Investigations of stock-loan scandals which have rocked the state for nearly seven months moved forward on three fronts during the past week.

Travis County District Attorney Robert O. Smith announced plans to present to the grand jury here evidence compiled by Texas Atty. Gen. Crawford C. Martin's staff.

Martin said evidence includes material pertaining to federal Securities and Exchange Commission allegations that large bank loans were extended to high state officials by the Sharpstown State Bank in 1969.

Money went to stock purchases by officials at the time Sharpstown bank head Frank Sharp was trying to get deposit insurance legislation passed.

Sharp was invited to testify within the next three weeks before a House General Investigating Committee.

Committee asked Sharp to talk about bills in which he was interested in 1969 "and other matters that may be pertinent concerning Sharpstown State Bank, the National Bankers Life Insurance Company and any relationship with public officials."

Meanwhile, State Insurance Commissioner Clay Cotten turned over to district attorneys in Houston, Dallas and Austin results of his investigation of NBL.

Cotten said he feels insurance, embezzlement and conspiracy laws may have been the harm she had suffered. Nevertheless, the law does not ordinarily grant compensation for values that are strictly sentimental.

For example, suppose those drapes happened to be especially precious to the woman because they had been made by her late mother. Obviously, this would heighten their value in her own eyes.

Yet, because this factor is so purely personal, it would not be counted against the laundry as an element of damages. The law would consider it unfair to place upon the laundry a special responsibility about which, when it accepted the drapes for cleaning, it knew nothing at all.

A simple test was suggested by the proprietor of a restaurant, after a woman's coat vanished from his checkroom.

"We will pay her what it would cost to buy a secondhand coat of similar quality," he said in a court hearing. "After all, that is what she lost—a secondhand coat."

But the court awarded her substantially more than the second-hand value. The judge said that, in her eyes, it was her own personal garment—not just a "second-hand coat."

Generally speaking, in fixing damages for personal belongings, the law will take the viewpoint of the original owner rather than of the person responsible for the loss. Accordingly, it relies mainly on the original cost of the item (minus depreciation).

What if the lost or damaged merchandise was part of a matching set? May you collect for the entire set? The law usually says yes, again taking the viewpoint of the owner.

Thus, when five out of a set of eight matching drapes were ruined at the laundry, a court held the laundry liable for all eight. The judge said that since the customer would have to buy a whole new set, this was the true measure of

A Country Within a Country!

SHORTENING

Welcome to the United States of Affiliated, A Country Within a Country!

We're more than 2,000 stores strong, serving nearly 20,000,000 people in seven states.

The new combined buying power of our four independent distribution centers now enables our independent member-grocers to offer you tremendous food values at unheard-of prices every day of the year.

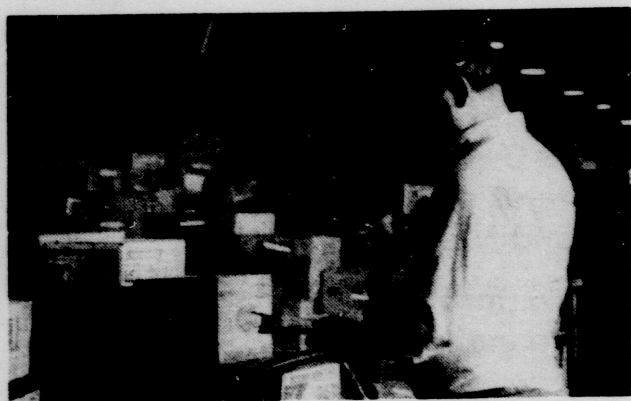

This is the culmination of more than thirty years operation as food distribution centers serving the needs of independent grocers to enable them to continue to offer competitive prices on more than 10,000 separate items.

More than thirty years ago an independent grocer was just that, an independent businessman. He had only himself to depend on. He bought his groceries from whatever supplier called on him with the best deal. He sold his groceries at whatever markup was necessary to make a profit and to stay in business.

Then, larger stores, members of a national chain began serving his neighborhood. And they beat his prices. Because they were buying as one customer and dividing the savings.

Something had to be done if the independent businessman stayed in business. He, and others like him, started their own distribution center. The idea spread.

Soon, all over the country, independent grocers suddenly found that through their distribution centers they could buy groceries at the same price as the chains. Sometimes even for less.

Through the years, the distribution centers grew, and grew and grew.

But so did the chains. Price advantages see-sawed back and forth.

Now, four of the biggest independent distribution centers in the southwest have themselves joined together. This time, they won't be beat. Together, they have the buying power of 2,000 stores. In seven states.

These distribution centers are in Dallas, Amarillo, Little Rock and Tulsa.

They are still autonomous. But they buy and advertise as one. The savings are passed on to the consumer.

A distribution center now does a lot more than just buy and distribute groceries for its member-owners.

It handles much of their individual book-keeping and accounting. The latest computer methods are used. Key punch terminals are used by some stores to order their merchandise. In the store, a clerk punches the code number of the item, displayed on the shelf under the item, together with the quantity desired. When he has tabulated the amount of goods needed for the store, the terminal is connected by telephone to the distribution center computer.

In three minutes the entire order is transmitted and recorded. Simultaneously an invoice is prepared. Routing and delivery instructions are printed for the delivery of the order.

A copy is printed for the personnel in the distribution center to pull the items for delivery. All this within minutes of the time the terminal is connected to the store telephone.

What used to take days through the mail, now takes minutes through the latest methods of electronics.

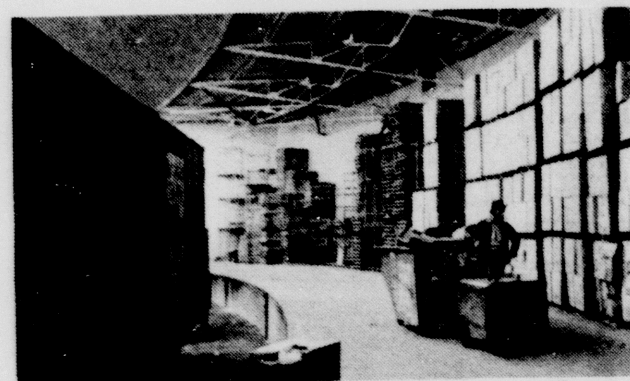

In one distribution center, Dallas, an entire potato bagging plant has been set up. Potatoes purchased by the carload, in bulk, fresh from the rich, black potatolands of Idaho, are delivered directly to the distribution center. They are unloaded in bulk and placed in hoppers holding over one thousand pounds of the important staple.

One thousand pounds at a time, they are carefully transferred by conveyor to a washing machine, through an inspection table, then to an automatic bagger. They are then weighed and bagged and placed in other bins ready for shipment to the grocers. All this within hours of their arrival from the fields.

The savings effected by this operation are directly passed on to the consumer.

Bananas are ripened in huge vaults on the premises. Eggs are received in one door and shipped out another, usually within the same day.

Goods in the distribution center are turned-over, replaced . . . received and distributed . . . on the average of three times a week!

Shortly after the four distribution centers began discussions pursuant to their joining their buying power, it was found that their combined trade territories roughly followed the outline of the United States. The seven states served by Little Rock, Amarillo, Dallas and Tulsa fit into an area which almost looked like a map of our great country. Thus the idea of a country within a country, the United States of Affiliated was born.

It was a happy thought. Store owners are delighted to be a part of the new plan. They are displaying the insignia of their new country. With store banners, window decals, and signs they proudly say, "We are glad to be a part of the United States of Affiliated."

The customer is also invited to share in the bountiful harvest. She will receive savings certificates good for many outstanding bargains in foods and grocery items.

Lower prices every day will be the continuing result of the joining together of these four giant food distribution centers under the banner of Affiliated Food Stores, the United States of Affiliated.

FOR THE WHOLE FAMILY

If the four distribution centers comprising the United States of Affiliated were assembled under one roof, the combined statistics would be staggering. The more than 10,000 different items now being distributed would be stored under 60 acres of roof. More than 200 trucks and over 300 trailers would be used to distribute foods over millions of miles of highway each year. 25 million pounds of bread and bread products, baked and distributed each year. 5 million gallons of 17 different flavors of ice cream, mellorine and sherbet would be manufactured annually.

Add to these statistics the fact that all of the goods in the warehouse are replaced an average of 22½ times per year, you have some idea of the tremendous service performed by the United States of Affiliated. Whole departments in the warehouse are dedicated merely to sorting and crediting coupons and redemption certificates. The savings earned by the housewife through the use of these coupons at the store is passed on thru the warehouse to the manufacturer and results in increased savings.

Speaking of savings, one of the reasons Affiliated members can consistently offer foods at lower retail prices is that they are served by cooperative warehouses. These warehouses are non-profit organizations operated for the convenience and benefit of their members. Lower operating costs and reduced taxes result in real savings to the housewife.

The next time you go to your friendly, neighborhood Affiliated Food Store, realize that it represents over 60 acres of warehouse values being passed on to you.

Tulsa Affiliated Now Part of "The Country Within A Country"

For 31 years, Affiliated Foods, Inc. has served member stores over a large part of Oklahoma. From a modest beginning in 1940, the Tulsa warehouse has grown to a huge food distribution center whose members have sold over $54 million worth of groceries in 1970. The general office of Affiliated Food Stores is at 4433 W. 49th Street in Tulsa, Okla. Members of the Tulsa warehouse are proud to offer many quality items under the Shurfine label, the brand of quality. According to Mike Robinowitz, President and General Manager of Affiliated Management Corp., "Shurfine and other control labels best serve our customers by enabling us to secure the highest quality merchandise at the lowest possible distribution costs."

"We offer these control label items in addition to other nationally distributed products. There are two advantages to the consumer in that a control label product enables an Affiliated Food Store to offer a product either of higher quality at no increase in cost, or of equal quality at a lower cost.

Affiliated Food Stores in Oklahoma have been able to build a high level of loyal consumer acceptance thru years of uncompromising high standards of quality, packaging, and promotion so that they are able to offer Quality-At-A-Price.

Now that Tulsa has joined with Amarillo, Dallas, and Little Rock Affiliated Food Stores, advantages of buying control label products by the consumer has been enhanced.

Little Rock Joins U. S. of A.

For years, a major source of foodstuffs in Arkansas, Louisiana, and Tennessee, has been the Associated Wholesale Grocers of Arkansas in Little Rock. The state capital is not only Arkansas' largest city but a trade manufacturing and transportation hub. 350 stores are served by the Associated Wholesale Grocers warehouse. But recently the name has been changed to Affiliated Foods of Arkansas.

With the name change came the announcement that the Little Rock warehouse was becoming an integral part of the United States of Affiliated. The warehouse serves an area as far away as Memphis, Tennessee, in addition to a substantial part of Arkansas and some stores in Louisiana.

C. E. TOLAND, President of Affiliated of Little Rock, says, "We have operated as Associated Wholesale Grocers of Arkansas for many years. But since we were the only one of the four warehouses which was not known as Affiliated, we felt it was necessary that we change our name. Now that we are a member of the United States of Affiliated, we know that we are going to be able to offer even better food values than we had before."

The new flag of the United States of Affiliated will soon be flying over the stores of famous food merchants such as Model Markets, All Star Markets, the Mad Butcher stores, A/G stores, Weona stores, By-Rite stores, and Valley Food markets.

None of the store names will be changed but they will now be known and identified as members of United States of Affiliated with all the additional benefits of greater buying power which they can pass on to their customers.

U. S. of A. welcomes Amarillo

The rich panhandle of Texas has long been served by the Amarillo Foods Warehouse. In addition to Texas, areas of New Mexico including Carlsbad and regions of Oklahoma including Guyman and Altas have been served by the Affiliated food warehouse. Soon newly decorated trucks will be delivering groceries to their members in this large area.

Last year, members sold more than $158 million worth of food distributed by Affiliated foods of Amarillo. Shurfine bread is baked daily in a fully automated bread plant on the warehouse premises and distributed within hours to the member stores.

Charles O. McBeath, General Manager, says, "We are proud to be a part of the new United States of Affiliated. We know that co-operative buying makes our members competitive with the national chains. Now that Tulsa, Dallas, and Little Rock Affiliated Warehouses have joined with Amarillo to increase our total buying power many times, you can bet that we will be consistently lower on virtually everything we sell."

Free panty hose

Ladies will be pleased to know that they may receive free panty hose during the week of July 26 when they shop at their friendly, neighborhood Affiliated Food Store.

An exceptional purchase was made by Affiliated on panty hose, and rather than price the hose so far below the regular price, Affiliated decided to celebrate the official announcement of their country within a country promotion, by giving away the panty hose entirely free of charge.

Watch the shopping sections of your newspaper for other outstanding food buys at Affiliated Food Stores. You will know an Affiliated Food Store by its distinctive "Country Within a Country" sign in the shape of the United States of America, and the red letters Affiliated Food Stores on a white field.

Another sure way to know that you are entering an Affiliated Food Store is by the smiles on the faces of the happy customers as well as the friendly, courteous attention of the sales people.

Affiliated delivers more than 5 million dozen eggs to member stores every week. These eggs are farm fresh — no more than 48 hours pass from the time Affiliated's eggs are laid until they reach the neighborhood store's dairy case.

U.S. of A. welcomes Dallas Affiliated Foods.

From its base of operations on Ambassador Row in the heart of one of Dallas' largest industrial districts, Affiliated Food Stores of Dallas distributed more than $171 million of groceries to more than 700 member stores in 1970.

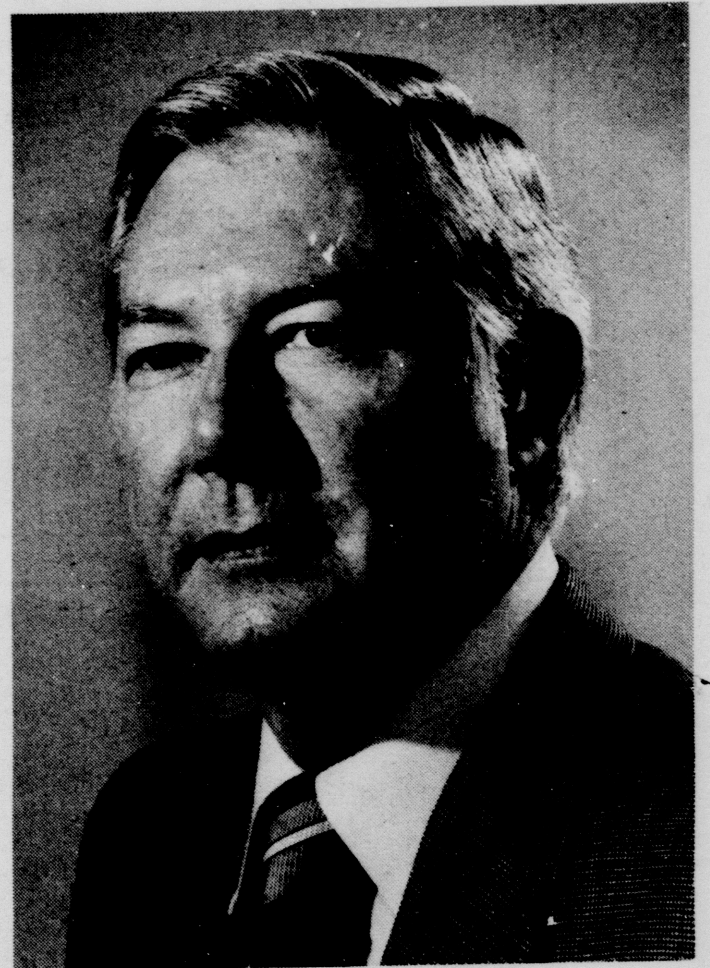

Familiar names now being served by Affiliated Foods include Thriftee and A/G stores. To these honored names will be added the sign of Affiliated Food Stores, the insignia of the United States of Affiliated.

Either Dallas or Ft. Worth alone would constitute a major, vital metropolitan market. Together, they constitute a major, vital metropolitan market, Texas-style. And it's served by Affiliated Foods of Dallas. But this is just a part of the large area in North Central, East and Central Texas served from the Dallas warehouse. In addition to the many nationally advertised brands of foods, private label items are distributed by Affiliated. An ice cream plant on the premises produces, stores and distributes AF ice cream to its member stores.

Nat Gibbs, General Manager, says, "Because the buying power of each individual warehouse has now been multiplied, we are going to be able to offer increased savings to our customers. We have recently added a potato packaging capability which enables us to buy potatoes in bulk at a real savings, process and package them ourselves and pass the savings along to our member stores and their customers.

"We are continually looking for more and better methods of packaging and distribution in order to save the housewife precious shopping dollars. Soon we will be applying our new techniques in purchasing and distribution to produce other than potatoes. Bulk buying and packaging for the ultimate consumer right in the warehouse will result in substantial savings."

National Brand Foods at Unheard of Low Prices

Special vaults ranging from Arctic subzero temperatures for frozen food to nearby tropical climates for ripening bananas are all located inside the giant warehouse.

To move the many thousands of items from the warehouse to consumer hands, Affiliated utilizes a vast fleet of specially designed trucks and trailers bearing the red, white and blue of the United States of Affiliated.

Exceptional values will be advertised on television beginning the week of July 26.

A favorite of the dairy case, canned refrigerated biscuits, will be at their lowest price ever at Affiliated Food Stores.

The main stay of the old fashioned Sunday dinner, frying-size chicken, will be available for a new record low price per pound. Check other pages in this tabloid for the price of the items you desire. And pay particular attention to the TV screen for the advertised TV specials which will represent the lowest prices ever in Affiliated food history.

The more than 2,000 food stores which now will be under the name of Affiliated Food Stores have always been known for their high-quality-at-low-price food items. Now that the four distribution centers serving the more than 2,000 food stores have combined their buying power, almost unbelievably low prices are being passed on to their customers.

Each member merchant of Affiliated can pick and choose from vast resources and stock his shelves with the many Shurfine and other national brand products specially suited for his neighborhood.

In fact, your independent Affiliated grocer offers you the widest possible selection of items, actually exceeding by more than 2,500 the number carried by most major chains.

To keep pace with the growth and shifts in population, stores are added to the Affiliated family each month. Further, existing stores are constantly undergoing modernization and expansion to enhance store appearance and provide greater shopping comfort for the consumer.

A special Affiliated engineering department confers with store members, designing and developing store plans. All member stores are consumer oriented. Ease of shopping and convenience for the consumer are always the prime considerations when undertaking store renovation.

Nearly $1 billion in products move through the four efficient Affiliated distribution centers each year. Every phase of the complex warehouse operation is executed with computerized precision. Advanced materials handling methods, increased use of electronic data processing, faster order processing and more efficient store delivery guarantees the shelf freshness the consumer desires.

Affiliated Food Stores and the more than 2,000 food store members rank as one of the Southwest's number one employers, offering varied careers in merchandising, operations, sales promotion, warehousing, transportation, finance and personnel, all at excellent earnings.

The Affiliated organization has developed training programs with an eye toward attracting young people into food distribution.

Affiliated has its own ice cream plant manufacturing more than a million gallons, in variety of flavors, annually.

Imagine yourself doing the family shopping in a giant distribution center covering almost sixty acres with over 7,000 different items from which to choose. In effect, this is exactly what the housewife-shopper is doing each time she visits her neighborhood independent Affiliated Food Store.

Independent grocers vital to local economy

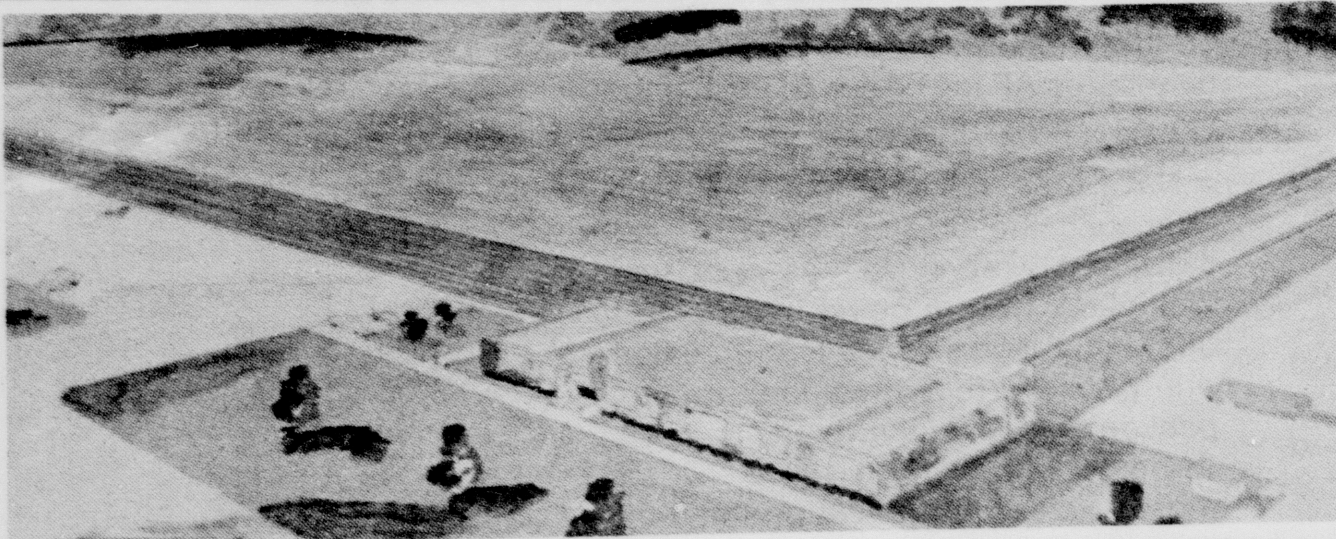

The independent grocer is a respected member of his community. He is a member of the Rotary, Lions or Kiwanis Club. He works with the youth of his community. His grocery store provides employment for many of your friends and neighbors.

Many a young executive has started his career as a stocking clerk or a bagger after school hours.

Your independent Affiliated grocer is an integral part of the community. His only reason for staying in business is to serve you and thousands like you who patronize his store.

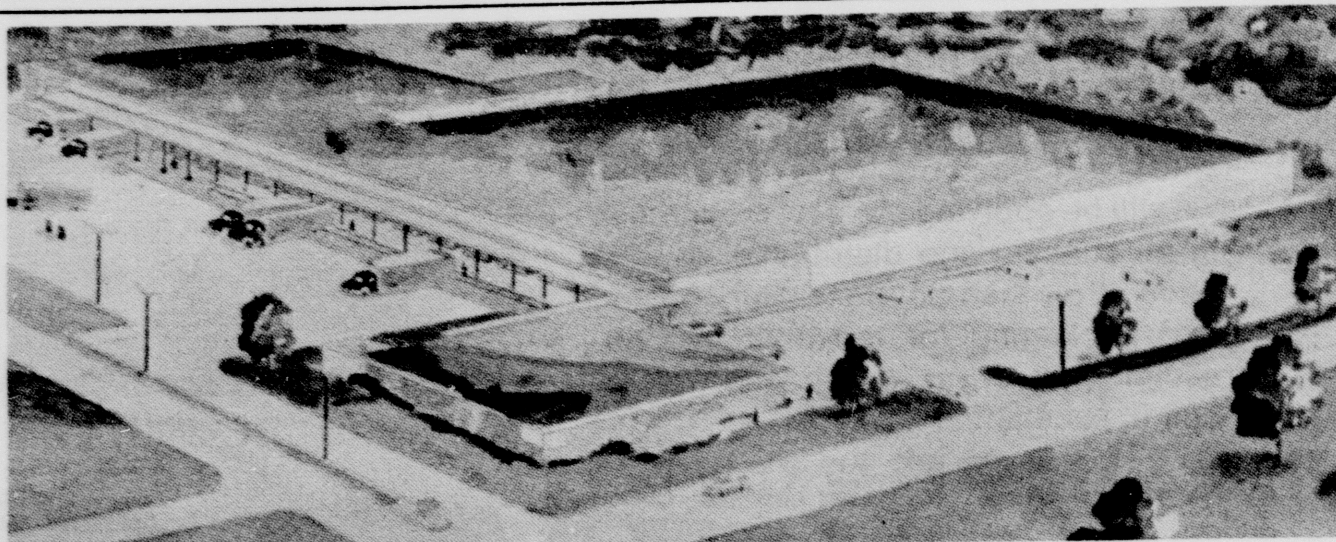

You benefit in many ways when you continue to buy from him. Perhaps the most important reason is that you continue to save on your food bill. But you also are contributing to the building of a stronger local economy and a better community.
